Don Gouldie By Logan Hafer

Don Gouldie served in the Navy during the Korean War. Don joined the navy because he preferred the Navy to the Army.

On December 30, 1950, Don traveled to boot camp in San Diego. He was assigned to PA 212, the USS Montrose. It had a small crew because it was a landing ship. A landing ship gets close to land then sends marines to shore in landing boats. Don's job on board was to manage the food on the ship. He had to keep track of the amount of food consumed and loaded on the ship.

The scariest incident Don experienced was when a helicopter went down. His ship went at full speed to rescue the survivors. However, another ship got there before the Montrose and took care of the job.

Don's funniest memory was when he was in the storeroom checking the food supply and two other crewmen fell 25 feet, landing in two crates of tea bags. The crewmen were scared but not hurt.

Don was finally dismissed on October 30, 1954, 3 years and 10 months after being drafted. Don would recommend anyone joining the navy because he thought you could learn a lot more in the service than you could sitting at home.

My Grandpa LaVerne J. Horton
By Madison Marten

My grandpa, LaVerne J. Horton, served in the U.S. Army from the age of eighteen to twenty. When he was eighteen he had to put his name in the draft which he wasn't so excited about. My grandpa was under the impression that if he just went to the meeting everything would be fine. Well, guess what! He was wrong. He did not really want to serve, but after he reached a number of days of going to meetings, the government said that he had to go to boot camp.

Grandpa was sent to boot camp. Once again he wasn't so excited. He remembered that he was always upset because he thought that his boot camp was not that far away and that his parents should have visited more. He wasn't too happy about that. While at boot camp he learned 1st and 2nd hand typing on the typewriter.

Grandpa served from January of 1953 to December of 1955 at Fort Riley and later. Later he transferred to Panama. He says that one of his favorite memories was that he would always swim in the Panama Canal with his buddies.

He was a typer, meaning he really did not do anything but type. He spent most of his days sitting behind a typewriter. He said that he was always ripping out pages and starting from scratch. My grandpa really wanted to smoke cigars while in Panama, but he could not get any. So one of his friends made some connections, and grandpa was able to buy a pack of cigars.

When my grandpa arrived home, he came home to his wife and daughter who had been born while he was away. They had eight other children including my mom, my four aunts, and my three uncles. When I asked Grandpa if he would recommend the army to other people, he said no. My grandpa watched his friends get injured and killed as they were carried away from the field.

My grandpa was proud to be in the army, but he would never go back.

Jerry Bodeen
By Matthew Dailey

Jerry Bodeen, my grandpa, served in the Army. He wanted to serve his country by flying. Of course, his first choice was the Air Force, but he joined the army instead.

Jerry went to two different boot camps, the University of Nebraska ROTC and Fort Knox, Kentucky. ROTC stands for Reserved Officers' Training Corps. My grandpa went to University of Nebraska ROTC for college, but also for boot camp. While at the University of Nebraska ROTC, he learned leadership development, problem solving techniques, management, planning, organization, professional ethics, responsibilities, and military skills while training.

After graduating from the University of Nebraska ROTC as a Second Lieutenant, he went to Fort Knox, Kentucky, March, 1963, for officer training. At Fort Knox he served in the Armor School unit.

Jerry was transferred a lot and served in many different units. After Fort Knox he was then transferred to Fort Hood, Texas, in May of 1963. At Fort Hood he served in the 1st Squadron, 1st Cavalry, 1st Armored Division. Then he went to Fort Wolters, near Mineral Wells, Texas, August of 1963. At Fort Wolters he was in the Officer Rotary Wing Aviator Course. While he was there, a big event of his life was Kennedy's assassination on November 22, 1963. Mineral Wells is close to Dallas, so I think the whole fort was worried about what to do next. Jerry was then transferred to Fort Rucker, Alabama, in February of 1964 to July of 1964. He was in the Officer Rotary Wing Aviator Advanced Course. From Fort Rucker he went to Munich, Germany, in July of 1964. He served in Troop D, 1st Squadron, 9th Cavalry, 4th Infantry Division. He was on border patrol on the East border. He came back to the states in August of 1965. He stayed at Fort Riley, Kansas, from August, 1965, to September, 1965. He was placed in Troop D, 1st Squadron, 4th Cavalry, 1st Infantry Division at Fort Riley.

After some time back, he was transferred to Vietnam, September, 1965. In Vietnam he flew a Huey Helicopter that was armed with rockets and a mounted machine gun. He was overhead cover for ground troops. He and his unit camped at an old Japanese WWII airbase and slept in tents. On December 17, 1965, his unit had been sent out to rescue a pilot that had been shot down. On that mission he was shot through the leg while flying. His co-pilot flew him to the field hospital. After receiving as much medical help that was possible in Vietnam, he was sent to Fitzsimons Hospital in Denver, Colorado, on New Year's Eve, 1965, and was let out in March of 1967. While he was at Fitzsimons, he was honorably discharged on March 22, 1967. He received the two purple hearts and the Third Cluster Air Medal With Valor that he had earned in Vietnam. After leaving Fitzsimons, he went to North Platte, Nebraska and settled there.

Some of his memories and experiences were bad and others were good. His memory of boot camp is the rifle range and the tanks in the armored division and the training officer always yelling at him. During one training session while he was the gunner on top of one of the tanks, the tank drove quickly over a large bump and his head came forward and hit the mounted gun. His nose was severely cut, but not broken. One of the places Jerry Bodeen liked the most was either Fort Wolters or Fort Rucker because there were lots of friends to visit with, and they were all learning to fly, also. His favorite part of his service was flying. One of his favorite memories was the swimming pool at Fort Rucker because his wife, Kay, and son, Gary, would swim with him. Another good memory for him was Munich, Germany, because he saw friends from home and his brother. Grandpa's worst part was border patrol on the East German border and flying in Vietnam.

Jerry Bodeen said that he would encourage others to join. "A life serving your country is an honor. It is also an amazing, rewarding life."

Sixth Grade News

April 27- May 1 the sixth grade class took their annual trip to Lincoln and Omaha. We'd like to share a few of our trip memories all of you. We'd also like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for your continued support. This year we visited the Air and Space Museum in Ashland on Monday. Tuesday we toured the Devaney Center, Memorial Stadium, and we finished our day at Heartland Scuba. On Wednesday we headed for Omaha and a performance of the Golden Dragon Acrobats at the Orpheum Theater, the Henry Doorly Zoo, and the IMAX. We ended our day at the Amazing Pizza Machine. Thursday we spent our morning at Morrill Hall (Elephant Hall) and the planetarium. Our afternoon was filled with a tour of the Governor's Mansion and the State Capitol. This is the first year the legislature has been in session when we've visited the Capitol. Senator Al Davis gave us a personal tour of the Law Library at the Capitol and then visited with us. We ended our day with several sessions of laser tag. Friday we stopped at the Edgerton Explorit Center in Aurora on our way home. The students took part in two science demonstrations— The Go Show (Forces and Newton's Laws of Motion , and The Forces of Electricity.) Again, thank you for your support. We are so fortunate for this experience every year!
