OUTDOOR ED DAY

May 14 was outdoor education day for the elementary students at the forest. A team of FFA students from the high school led various activities in the picnic area for the elementary kids. Activities included a nature scavenger hunt, marshmallow shooter construction, raft building with sticks and a hot glue gun, and a rope web relay race.

After lunch, the elementary students traveled to the tower and were able to climb to the very top. The forest biologist, Greg Wright, met them there and took them on a nature walk along the trail. The goal was to find as many birds as possible. There were also plenty of wildflowers and lizards to look at.
